

Mel Elgersma's Hall of Fame Presentation

It takes a good measure of skill and perseverance to attain the necessary point total to be eligible for induction into the Hall of Fame. Mel certainly has these necessary attributes.

More than that however, Mel exudes these other qualities when playing this game. They are confidence, a never say die attitude, and most of all a calmness regardless of the score or situation. These qualities tend to rub off on his playing partners. I happen to know this as Mel and I teamed up on a number of tournaments with some success, particularly in the amateur ranks.

So, as a playing partner I was fortunate to have teamed up with Mel and as a friend I am honored to be able to present to you for induction into the Central District Hall of Fame, Mel Elgersma.
